____ 3. Men hun - ger for rich - es, for pow'r, and for fame: By fa - vor they think they will grow.

The bat - tles they fight, the vic - t'ries they win are nev - er the vic - t'ries they know.

1. Brave were the people who lived in these hills.
 Brave, the great warriors who confronted the foe.
 To defend what is holy, to defend what is true:
 Our Lord on mankind did this duty bestow.
2. Glad all our children who people these hills,
 Glad in the vision their hearts understand.
 What became of past struggles? Now the records are still,
 But courage still lingers, giving strength to the land.
3. Men hunger for riches, for pow'r, and for fame;
 By favor they think they will grow.
 The battles they fight, the vict'ries they win
 Are never the vict'ries they know!

repeat intro (x2) then sing first verse, and tag with "Our Lord on mankind did this duty bestow."*

Brothers

Guitar intro: D | D - - - | D - - - | G - A - | D - - - |

by Swami Kriyananda

1. I've lived in man-y coun-tries And mixed with man-y men. I've shared their days of sun - shine, Gone with them in the rain. The fires at eve-ning said we were bro - thers.
The fires at eve-ning said we were Bro-thers!

1. I've lived in many countries
And mixed with many men.
I've shared their days of sunshine,
Gone with them in the rain.
The fires at evening said we were brothers.
The fires at evening said we were —
Brothers!

2. A soldier I saw weeping
Beside a dying friend.
My officers had said
I must hate him till the end.
But seeing his grief, I knew we were brothers.
But seeing his grief I knew we were —
Brothers!

3. A man sat on a doorstep
To see the children play.
The gentle way he smiled there
Would charm your fears away.
A stranger, he, but love made us brothers.
A stranger, he, but love made us —
Brothers!

4. One day I climbed a mountain
With friends of other lands.
The words we used were different,
But joy one understands.
Our gladness in God's world made us brothers.
Our gladness in God's world made us —
Brothers!

5. Though words and customs vary
Like waves upon the sea,
One life beneath the surface
Binds everyone to me.
Who knows the truth knows all men as brothers.
Who knows the truth knows all men as —
Brothers!

6. Then brothers, why endeavor
To set ourselves apart?
The fences we've been building
Squeeze tight upon our hearts!
Come sing the truth that all men are brothers!
Come sing the truth that all men are —
Brothers!

Darkness can't harm you,
Its fears are unreal.
Light will enfold you;
Just open your heart:
Let peace through your dreams gently steal.

Good night, Sweetheart,
I'll see you in the morning.
Till then, sleep tight; sweet dreams!

Starlight, Sweetheart,
Your golden hair adorning,
Bring peace on silv'ry beams.

Though sep'rate for awhile,
The mem'ry of your smile
Will linger in my heart,
And bless me.

Now flow, Sweetheart,
All cares and troubles scorning,
Adrift on astral streams.

Home Is a Green Hill

by Swami Kriyananda

1. Home is a green hill.
Home is a wind,
Blowing betrayal far, far away.
Home is the knowledge
Heaven is near.
Home's the end of the fray.

2. Home is my heart's land.
Home's where I am.
Nothing can dim the light of my soul.
Home is forever.
Home is today.
Home's a heart that is whole.

3. Often I dream
That life is a play:
Laughter forever,
And skies never gray.
But when I'm silent,
Freed from all care,
I discover my home's
Everywhere!

Springtime in Romania

from Romanian Memories
by Swami Kriyananda

Capo 3: Am Cm

Spring-time in Ro - man - ia! Gay songs un - der trees,

Bright flowers in the mead - ows: Sun - lit mem - o - ries.

Shep - herds' flutes still ech - o Down the twist - ing years.

Gyp - sy vi - o - lins still play: Laugh - ter tinged with tears!

Still the soft notes lin - ger In the fad - ing light,

Touch - ing hearts with sad - ness: Dew - drops in the night!

Springtime in Romania!
Gay songs under trees,
Bright flowers in the meadows:
Sunlit memories.
Shepherds' flutes still echo
Down the twisting years.

Gypsy violins still play:
Laughter tinged with tears!
Still the soft notes linger
In the fading light,
Touching hearts with sadness:
Dewdrops in the night!

This songbook is a companion for the journey of life. The lyrics are a guide to living wisely and well. The music helps open our hearts to a greater reality, within and all around us.

But don't take our word for it. Sing it for yourself. This music is for your personal enjoyment, group sing-alongs, and performance.

This collection is all of Swami Kriyananda's vocal melodies in one place for the first time. Each song is easy to read and sing, without additional choral parts or elaborate instrumentation. Beginning guitarists and pianists will find nearly everything easy to play.

Swamiji composed over 400 pieces of music. Though he often consciously drew this inspiration, there were many times a melody came into his awareness, asking to be written down and shared. He was moved to tears as he composed, describing the process as receiving from a higher source. "This music is not my music. It is a new consciousness coming into the world as music."

Music touches us deeply, in a way that bypasses the conscious mind. Singing can uplift our consciousness, overcoming moods and challenging attitudes. Some people have been healed just listening to this music. May these songs enrich your life, opening new worlds of self-discovery and joy.

Paramhansa Yogananda • Swami Kriyananda
